EDMUNDS AND PHELPS.

THEIR CORRESPONDENCE MADE PUBLIC.

MR. EDMUNDS IN BAD TOMPER - COMMENT IN WASHINGTON-THE ASSAULT UPON MR. BLAINE

A FAILURE.

IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. Washington, April 30,-The publication here this afternoon of the correspondence between Representative Phelps and Senator Edmunds is received with a good deal of amusement. The friends of the Vermont Senator had been going about town for the last twenty-four hours, declaring loudly that their champion would annihilate the defender of Mr. Blaine's reputation and prove him to be not merely mistaken in the statement of his facts with regard to Mr. Edmunds's relation to the Burlington and Missouri Railroad Company, but also guilty, in all probability, of wilful and malicious prevarica tion. They openly charged him with having dragged Mr. Edmunds's name into the controversy, for no other purpose than that of injuring his chances as a candidate for the Presidential nomination. They did not hesitate to say that the Senator would be able to show that his relation to the Burlington and Missouri Road differed radically from that held by Mr. Blaine with the Fort Smith and Little Rock. They ridiculed the idea that both cases were to all intents and purposes identical. It was impossible to persuade them that Mr. Phelps cited Mr. Edmunds simply to show that he did not act in any way differently from Mr. Blaine under exactly the same circumstances, and they reinctantly are compelled to confess now that to censure Blaine in the one case would logically imply the condemnation of Edmunds in the other.

A CONTRAST IN TEMPER. The friends of both Mr. Blaine and Mr. Phelps deprecate to some extent the loss of temper displayed by Mr. Edmunds in his letter. It is undoubtedly meant to be sarcastic, and it is not always polite in tone. In happy contrast to it is the cheerful reply of Mr. Phelps, whose good nature and equanimity did not leave him for one moment while carrying on this interesting correspondence. To this perhaps may be ascribed the favorable impression which the letter produced to-day. It shows Mr. Phelps to have been entirely correct in his statements regarding Mr. Edmunds. He is not obliged to retract a single one of them, Indeed, instead of confessing inaccuracy in the statement of any of his facts, he is able to convict Mr. Edmunds of a slight mis take, into which, in his trascible frame of mind. that gentleman had allowed himself to fall. Altogether Mr. i helps is considered to have the beet of this little controversy, and Mr. Edmunds, whose ruffled temper is displayed in the last sentence of his last letter, when he says, "With your ar guments and conclusions I have no concern," is thought to have been skilfully "drawn" and to have betrayed himself into an exhibition of ill temper, which can neither benefit him nor injure EDMUNDS, SUMNER AND HOAR.

The letter from Boston, printed in The Thurne yesterday, which recalls the attitude taken by Mr. I dmunds in compassing the humiliation of Charles Summer by removing him from the chairmanship of the Foreign Relatious Committee of the Senate and his course in defeating the nomination of Judge Hoar to the Supreme Court, for apparently no other reason than that of gratifying the per-sonal rancor of political enemies, has attracted only less attention than his correspondence with Mr. Phelps. It is thought to show clearly that he is not, as his friends have always asserted, above the consideration of personal prejudices and passions in the discharge of his duties as a legislator "There is no doubt," remarked a Senator to-day, "that the publication of such stories will have the effect of opening the eyes of his Massachusetts admirers to a true knowledge of the man. It will show them that he is not altogether a saint in polities or made of different clay than his col THE BARGAIN AT UTICA.

The recent bargain in New-York, too, by which Mr. Edmunds's friends gained the support of the machine, has produced anything but a favorable impression here. It is generally conceded to have been a mistake, and to have injured rather than strengthened him. There is a belief that the delegates at large from New-York are not at heart as pronounced protectionists as the welfare of the Republican party would seem to demand. It is frequently asserted, and apparently on good anthority, that there is about them a taint of free tracie which cannot result otherwise than in making the great manufacturing interests of the country, which look to the Kepublican party for protection, distrustful of them. This, it is argued, will obviously weaken Mr. Edmunds's position as a candidate, and bring out prominently Mr. Blaine, whose principles on the question of protection and free trade nobody has ever thought of calling into question. Mr. Edmunds's friends gained the support of the

THE ATTACK ON BLAINE A FAILURE. Taken as a whole, the events of the last three days seem to have proved conclusively that the at-tack on Mr. Blaine, if it was made for the purpose of defeating him as a candidate for the Presidential nomination, has failed most judicrously. It would be difficult to-night to find a single man in town whose opinion in regard to Mr. Blaine had been in whose opinion in regard to Mr. Blaine and seen in the least affected for the worse by the pablication of these stale charges. On the contrary, indications are not wanting that the whose proceeding has gained him new supporters, and that the ill-advised friends of Mr. Edmunds, who, probably much against his will, took up the endgels for him with the result of having to eat leak, like "Ancient Pistol," will be a little more discreet the next time. DARK RORSES BACK IN THEIR STALLS.

The most curious phase of the episode, however is the attitude of the so-called " dark horses," whom it would be useless to name here. They seemed to field. Their disappointment now is only greater than the hopes were with which they watched the beginning of the attack on Mr. Blaine. Since its failure they have resumed their chronic state of expectation.

MR. PHELPS TO MR. EDMUNDS.

Masursoros, D. C., April 28, 1884.

DEARSIR: I have this moment your letter of this morning, and hasten to correct some impressions you have getten either from my letter to The Post, or more probably from some of the numerous newspaper comments. I regret if you think that in using your name as an ilius.ration of a principle I have in any way hurt your a reputation. It is a reputation of which you and the country may well be proud; and, as I said in my letter, the facts do not and ought not to hurt any man's reputation. The principle I sought to illustrate was that a legislator has no right to refuse justice to corporate interest because he happens to have some share in the property that would be benefited; and that it was not necessarily a wrong thing for a legislator to acquire an interest me corporate property after legislators an interest in a corporate property after legislators, which neither I nor any one else censured. Then I asked why such conduct and that of many other legislators, which neither I nor any one else censured. Then I asked why such conduct was censurable in Mr. Hlaine and not in any one else. Mr. Blaine and not in any one else. Mr. Blaine on more of the road at the time than I did—and forgot the fact. Three months afterward Mr. Blaine bought his interest in that road. You were present—to confirm the land grant of the Burincton and Missouri road, knowing at that time a little more of it than I did, for you debated it: you forgot the fact; three montas afterward you bought you unterest in that road. The cases were so amidayous in all essential particulars that it seemed proper to group them. Had I thought the action of either of you discreptable. I should not have defended him, nor mentioned you.

Where is there any lack of accuracy in my "statements of either of you discreptiable. I should not have defended aim, nor mentioned you.

Where is there any lack of accuracy in my "statements about other people !" I said: "Senator Edmunds was anderstood to have a block of Burlinston and dissouri Boad when he was in the Senate"; you say, on the 13th of July, 1869, you subscribed for 195 shares of the stock and six thousand (56,000) of the bonds of the Burlinston and Missouri River Railroad Company. I am Inaccurate in these statements, then, only to case you were not a nember of the Senate on the 13th of July, 1869, and in case stocks and bonds do not constitute a block. I said: "They both (you and another), supported the bill to retore the land grant to their road." You say on this point orbiting accurately; you had only to say you "yoted ore the land grant to their road. Too say on this pos-thing accurately; you had only to say you "voted minst the bill." dad you done this I would cheerfully mit my inaccuracy; but the official record shows you esent and speaking upon the resolution at the moment its passage and the record shows that it passed with-present and speaking upon the reconstitute of the passage and the record shows that it passed without a vote against it.

If The Theirvie misapprenended me as saving you were in any way interested in the road at the time of the passage of he resolution, it is responsible and not I. I suspect it can take care of itself and prefers to. I made no such representation, directly or by implication. Such a fact would destroy the parallelism between your case and Mr. Blaine's. He had no interest in the road at the time of the passage of the resolution, as you had none. He acquired his interest in Boston three months after, just as you acquired yours in Boston three months after, it think my statements were as accurate as popular He acquired his interest in Boston three months after, inst as you acquired yours in Boston three months after. I think my statements were as accurate as popular language could make them. Had I thought them "a charse" I could have used the technical language of a logal pleading; but such language the technical language of a logal pleading; but such language to the facts which they not have used the facts more fairly. I do not want to know anything of your business transactions except these facts which the public has long known and of which you need not be astamed; nor do I need any other evidence than your own word for anything you choose to communicate.

The fact that you, like your great associates do not excape the misrepresentation of the press has never shaken my entire confidence in your honor and honesty; nor need I add that I have been long in a school where I have learned to sympathize with public men who are talsely and perpetually accused of corruption, bias and selfshiness, and of acting upon public questions in which they have private interests. Nor have they been exempt from such penalties of greatness, though neither willing nor desirous to be either candidate or President, and naturally liking to stand well in the estimation of their fellow citizens. Such expressions of entry are always a penalty of greatness and can be only escaped by obscurity. The disposition of this letter is in your hands. I am, Mr. Senator, with high catesim, respectfully yours, with high cates in your hands. If am, Mr. Senator, with high cates in your hands. If am, Mr. Senator, with high cates in your hands.

DEAR STR: I have yours dated 28th instant, which was left at my house late last evening. According to your permission any of the gentemen of the press who desire it will be permitted to take codes of my note and yours. The statement in your public letter, together with the facts referred to in my note will show what the point was. With your arctiments and conclusions I have no concern. Respectfully yours.

NOMINATED TO SUCCEED MR. KNOX. THE PRESIDENT SELECTS HENRY W. CANNON, OF

MINNESOTA-COMMENT, INT TELFGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

Washington, April 30,-The nomination today of Henry W. Caunon, of Minnesota, to be Controller of the Currency, in the place of John Jay Knox, whose resignation took effect to-day, is a surprise to many who thought the President would prefer to select a mar out of the number of officials aircidy in the Treasury and known to the public. It is not regarded as an appointment in the line of Civil Service reform. The good opinion which the President won by the pro-motion of Mr. Coon from the Loan Division to be assist ant secretary, he has, it is thought, lost to some extent y his action of to-day.

Mr. Cannon, who is the cashier of the Lumbermen's

National Bank of Stillwater, Minn., was supported prin-cipally by Senators McMillan and Sabto, was regarded the appointment as rightfully belonging to their State because Mr. Knox was appointed from it. In one sense, therefore, the appointment is partly a political one. Mr. Cannon had also the support of Mr. Knox, who warmly favored and is largely responsible for his selection. Among Treasury officials some discontent naturally results from the President's choice. Not with-out reason they ask who Mr. Cannon is, what his opinions on currency and bunking are, and what he has ever done

WASHINGTON, April 30.—It is understood that the State Department will in a day or two be result to reply to General Baleson's charges. The late Consul-General is thought to have given way to an outbreak of temper, which has experience and training in the Diplomatic service should have prevented. "It reads the an after-dinner speech," was the comment which an official of the Department passed upon it to-day. "It's ill-mainred and not at all lige him," said another. Nobely here affects to believe that the recent trade arrangeomets with 8 sale were the real cause of General Badeau's grievances. His statement that major the provisions the United States Abandoned to Spain duties amounting to $0,500,000, while Spain surrendered only $1,000,000, is pronounced absort. The difficulties he has with his clork, it's sand, and endirely of a personal nature, and the rumor which gamed some circulation here that the clerk was a relative of Secretary ir furnavised and as such had been given the official support of the bepartment in his controvers; is without foundation. The take of an investigation by Congress has sandeded, it would seem.

MR. THOMPSON'S LOBBY.

TRYING TO INFLUENCE LEGISLATION.

ANXIETY OF THE CHAIRMAN OF THE SENATE COM-MITTEE ON CITIES.

FROM THE REGULAR CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE. ALBANY, April 30.—The lobby which Commis-sioner Hubert O. Thompson has at work here bids fair to create as much of a scandal as the one he had here in 1881, when he himself was present working to get through a bill to give him the sole power to construct the new aqueduct. At the present time he is endeavoring to defeat in the Assembly the bill which gives the next Mayor the power to appoint a Commissioner of Public Works and a Corporation Counsel. is also trying hard to get the Senate committee on Cities, which exposed a part of the scandalous abuses in his department, to bring in a whitewashing report. A third object that Mr. Thompson has in yiew is to get through a bill now before the Senate, to compel the city to pay whatever expenses he may have incurred for counsel fees and in other ways, in trying to impede the investigation into his official management. There is some doubt whether or not under that oill the city would have to pay the expenses of Coutractor Maurice B. Flynn in purchasing theatre tickets for members of the committee while carrying on their investigation in New-York, and in extending other courtesies. But it could no doubt be stretched to include such expenses, although at least some of the members of the committee decline to accept those "courtesies." If the bill is passed it might even be made to include the expenses of the men who are here in Thompson's behalf. Among them are Richard A. Cunningham, of $999 order notorists: "Harry" Ford, whom of $999 order notoriety; "Harry" Ford, whom Thompson made a Police Justice; John Keenan, who looks after Thompson's interest in the County Clerk's office; Nelson J. Waterbury and

Thomas J. Costigan, supervisor of The City Record. Senator Gibbs, chairman of the committee that investigated the Public Works Department, is very anxious over its report. He had one prepared, and supposed, after the evidence taken showing Thompson's violations of law and outrageous mismanagement, that there would be trouble in getting at least a majority of the committee to sign the report. General Tracy and Mr. Whitralge counsel for the emmittee, said that the report was very mild considering the evidence taken. Senator Lansing and Thompson's agents are so numerous here and following the notorious action of the previous Senate committee which suchleady abandoned an investigation into Thompson's department, has led to insumations that appear to give great trouble to Chairman Gibbs, who is sensitive for the reputation of his committee. He has used his best endeavors to make this investigation an horsest one. He was going round to-might with his pocket full of newspaper cippings about his committee.

There was no serious consideration of the bill, and no apparent design on the part of the Assemblymen to give women the right to vote. The design of the Assembly not to take such a step was shown when it voted down a motion of Mr. Curtis, of St. Lawrence County, to instruct the Judiciary Committee to draw up an amendment to the stitution permitting women to vote.

STUDENTS ON AN ANNUAL OUTING. The students of the College of the City of New-York took an outing yesterday, and had their on nual May regatta. At 8:30 a.m. about 150 of them hired all the boats that they could find in Harlem, and, under the command of Commodore Henry P. Johnson left Harlem bridge at Third-ave, and pulled out to Oak Point, on the Sound. The land proved tempfing, and the boats were abandoned for athletic sports on store. Foot-ball, taken tenuls, baseball, and other games were in-

A CLOSE CONTEST IN THE SIX-DAYS' RACE. FITZGERALD'S BIG SCORE-DAY RETIRES-A LARGE

CROWD PRESENT LAST NIGHT. The bald spot on Rowell's head seems to grow larger as he adds mile after mile to his score and creeps nearer and nearer to the best record. Fitzgerald's head hancs further forward and his arms swing further back Nitaw-Eg-Ebow looks tresh as he sports around the track for a mile or two at intervals of from four to " ven hours. He wears a new suit at every fresh appearance, and seems to enjoy himself while he carns the salary which it is said that he is to be paid. The list of departed was increased at 8:35, when Burrill, the negro, came out, looked at the 180 miles to his credit and the 273 which Rowell had made, and sorrowfully remarked that he guessed he'd nunt a job of carpet cleaning, seeing as how to-morrow's the first of May." Thompson gave up the contest

In the morning little progress was made, the men spending most of their time resting. At 6 o'clock the

During the morning there was a larger crowd than on the previous day, and more enthusiasm was manifested. Day seemed in better shape, and while he was off the track Day seemed in better snape, and while he was off the track a good deal he ran with more case and appeared to suffer less from his leg. Fitzgerald made a desperate effort to close the gap between him and Eowell; but it was unavailing, the Englishman keeping at his heels with exasperating pertinacity. Next to the race between the leaders the contest between Noremac and Herty for third place attracted most attention. Herty runs faster than

From The Chicago Tribune.

If Edmunds is really a formidable candidate for the Republican normalism it is proper and destrable that his clause, qualifications and availability should be openly and fairly concasses; he same as Aribda's, Slaime's and Legan's. These who support him seem to dream this test. If that be the case, it is because his friends fear that are would be found lacking in the elements of popularity are resolved as a secretary of the property of the contraction.
